By WALTER M. BARRETT

Further evidencing their faith in his ability as a competent business executive and a valuable community leader, scores of Truckee and Lake Tahoe patrons of the Bank of America have signed petitions urging the retention of C. B. White as the Truckee branch manager. Loud were the protests when it became known that because of a bank ruling Mr. White was to be retired on June 1 because of an age stipulation. These protests fell on receptive ears but the decision was unaltered and bank officials continued their move for the retirement despite continued objections to what was considered an unjust ruling. Efforts to replace Mr. White with successors have not met with unanimous approval, testifying to his value in the region which he has faithfully served for more than 40 years. These petitions were not signed promiscuously nor by people uninterested in the bank and district from which it draws its many patrons. The signers represent the leading businessmen and taxpayers who look upon the retirement of Mr. White as a serious blow to the region and bank as well. We can only hope that the personnel department of the bank reconsiders its first ruling and takes full advantage of the extenuating circumstances as provided. We feel that if the board members were better acquainted with their local manager and local conditions they would not hesitate to delay the retirement. If the manager was no longer capable of handling the exacting duties entrusted to his care or if advanced years had in the least detracted from his keen business judgment the signers of those petitions would have not hesitated to have been excused from signing but would have welcomed a change. That would have been only good business.

Local merchants are advised to consider very carefully the offerings of out of town solicitors, scores of whom are again infesting the area with smooth talk but little else. To our knowledge values are not as often represented, especially in printing and advertising. Study carefully the cost and possible benefits from a small ad hidden in a metropolitan paper before buying. After all the salesman will use his best arguments but not entirely for your benefit.

The newly elected members of the board of directors of the Truckee Public Utility District stepped into the harness Tuesday night and from every indication embarked upon a good job. All former officers were renamed despite rumors to the effect that they would not be and C. B. White defeated at the recent election for director, was installed as auditor to replace the late Robert A. Tonini. We believe good judgment was exercised in these appointments and that the reorganized board will have no difficulty in maintaining the high quality service and development which has been enjoyed in past years.

LIGHT PRECIPITATION LESSENS FIRE DANGER

Accompanied by a thunder storm the Truckee and Lake Tahoe areas Tuesday and Wednesday experienced a rain and snow storm which left a total precipitation in Truckee of .82 of an inch, according to H. I. Snider, local forest ranger. Lightning did not cause any serious fires, he said.

FOREST GUARDS IN THIS AREA POSTED

Frank (Waddles) Maher entered on duty at Martis Peak lookout station May 6 and Harold Booth began his duties as Truckee fire dispatcher in the local forest service office during the emergency dry period.

Lookouts are being retained even though it has rained since there are possibilities of lightning fires and the foresters are trying to ward off a hangover lighting fire such as occurred at Boca.

Serious Forest Fire Sweep 125 Acres Near Boca

First Major Forest Fire In This Region Battled By 100 Men

WARNING IS ISSUED

CCC Camp Is Imperiled As Fire Covers Wide Area

A forest fire of major proportions and the first of the season, last Thursday night swept over 125 acres of brush and timberland just west of Boca and was brought under control by the efforts of more than 100 fire fighters who waged a 24 hour battle.

For a brief time Thursday the new CCC camp at Boca was threatened and evacuation was started. A slight shift in the wind, however, sent the fire on another path and the damage was confined to the trees and brush.

H. I. Snider, forest ranger here who directed the fighting, said that because of the dry condition of the forests special care should be taken in fire prevention. A smoldering stump probably ignited a month ago in a lightning storm, was blamed for the Boca blaze.

CONSTRUCTIVE PROGRAM

Whenever the Republicans point out the failure of the New Deal to restore this country to a semblance of economic recovery, the New Dealers parry with: "Well, what would you do?" It is a fair question and one which the Republicans should answer.

They are doing so. Representative Joseph W. Martin, Jr., Republican leader of the House, gave the answer the other day when he outlined a twelve-point program to restore recovery and put our 11,000,000 unemployed to work. Mr. Martin might have included other proposals, but he confined himself to enumerating those things which should be done to stimulate business.

In that he was wise, for there the emphasis should be. Get this country back to economic stability, decrease unemployment, raise farm prices and some of these other problems will take care of themselves.

Mr. Martin, in essence, proposed keeping the country out of war, reducing Federal expenses, revising Federal taxes which bear down heavily on business, repealing discretionary authority over the monetary system, amending the Labor Relations Act, limiting the area of government competition with private enterprise, restoring American markets to the American farmer, rehabilitation of the railroads and an end to experimental legislation.

There is a program which challenges the New Deal. It cannot be laughed off. Until the New Dealers demonstrate either the impracticability or impossibility of this Republican program, let's hear no more of "what would you do?"

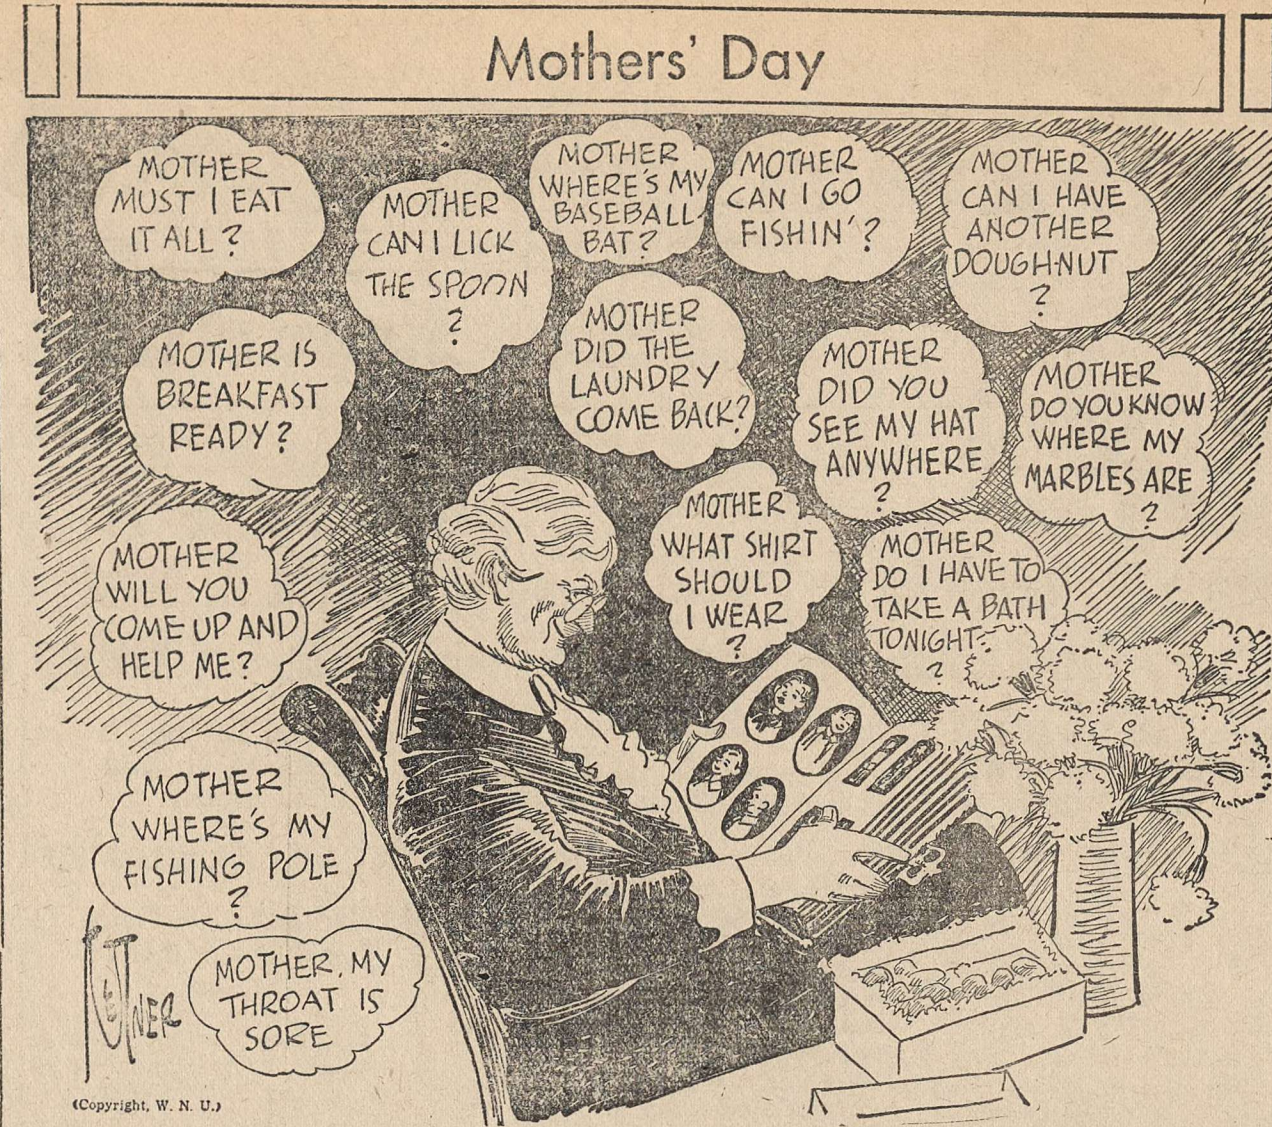

THE SPIRIT OF ENTERPRISE

In an ably reasoned essay in the April Atlantic Monthly, Sumner H. Slichter discusses "The Great American Experiment." At the end, he sums up his views in these words: "The spirit of enterprise is more than an economic force; it is the very basis of free democratic institutions. Only so long as opportunity is abundant is social conflict mild, and only when social conflict is mild are men willing to settle their differences by voting, by negotiating or by arbitrating rather than by fighting. The basis for opportunity is expansion. Upon the willingness and ability of democracies to encourage investment will depend their ability to keep opportunity abundant and, therefore, to preserve the free institutions which are the first casualties of severe social conflict."

There is a vastly important, and often overlooked, historical truth here, and its meaning is plain. As Thomas Woodlock says, in commenting on Slichter's essay, "The plain implication is that thorough economic collectivism must of necessity be totalitarian, and that totalitarianism is incompatible with free institutions, no matter whether it be expressed in Nazist, Fascist, Bolshevik or 'democratic' social structures." In other words, economic collectivism is inescapably an enemy of democratic freedom. It must inevitably result in iron-handed regimentation of individuals, of industries, and of all important resources. And though its advocates avoid the word "totalitarianism", that is the goal that must be reached at the end of the collectivist road.

American people, who have expressed the strongest dislike and distrust of the European totalitarian states, have unconsciously permitted the totalitarian gospel, under a variety of names, to creep into our economic life. Less and less have been the opportunities for expansion by individuals or businesses.

It cannot be denied that this nation of ours made greater material and social progress in century and a half than any other nation ever made. That progress was made under true democracy—which means true freedom, and the encourage-

POLITICALLY SPEAKING

by JOHN W. DUNLAP
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, May 11 —(UP)—National defense is an important subject in these days of war threats, dictators and international broadcasts in the wee small hours of morning. That's why there was so much interest in efforts to secure committee approval of four assembly bills concerning alien fishing.

All bills had the joint intent of preventing alien fishermen—and that hits principally at the Japanese—from spying on the fleet and the California while ostensibly fishing for herring. Regulating issuance of permits was the means of enforcing the policy. The assembly Fish and Game Committee was custodian of the bills and failed three times to send any or all of the measures to the floor.

The 15-man committee was evenly split on the matter. The first hearing was 6 to 4, lacking two votes of approval. By the time the final hearing was held, and the United States Navy officials intervened in behalf of the bills, the count stood 7 to 7. And there it may remain, so firmly set are the committeemen.

But one member had an interesting explanation. He said there were 300 or 400 Japanese in his district, many of them his friends, most of them respectable and a credit to their community. For that reason he hated to vote on a restrictive bill. But when the naval officers presented the government's position, urging a "Yes" vote for patriotism and national defense, he said he had put his Japanese friends second and his country first.

Lt. Gov. Ellis E. Patterson
... he has big ideas

Lieutenant Governor Ellis E. Patterson hasn't said so in so many words but he undoubtedly would like to succeed one Hiram Johnson as United States Senator. Perhaps for this and other reasons, he has been making frequent statements of late some of which have been slightly embarrassing to the Olson administration.

Most controversial subject he selected was "Ham and Eggs", on which he said he believed the Governor would call a special election before the proposition officially goes on the November, 1940, ballot.

Patterson indicated strongly that the Governor had in mind the calling a special session of the Legislature. The Lieutenant Governor topped off by characterizing opponents of Olson's budget policies as "hypocrites."

ment of private individuals and private enterprise. Let the people think, before it is too late, of what present policies, many of which go entirely against the grain of the whole structure of democracy, may mean to us and our children.

Certainly I Can Go!

"No more slaving for me on wash days. I just phone 124—ask for the pickup—and my wash day worries are over. The cost is less than doing it at home—and the work is much finer."

That's what scores of our customers tell friends as they avail themselves of our popular services.

Why not do as they do? Call for our driver—he'll explain our economy services.

bin salaries were above $250 per month. But after his bill got to the floor, O'Day made a poll and found he could only get a scattering of votes. He killed his own bill by asking it be referred to committee.

State Relief Administrator Dewey Anderson finally got around to releasing names of a score of SRA officials who resigned or were fired because their spouse also worked in the SRA. Most of the dismissals were of women but one high executive is reported to have left state service because his wife felt her SRA career was of more importance than his.

There are nearly two-score newspapermen in the Capitol for the largest number in history. This is due not only to the unusual news interest on the change of administrations but general application of the Wages and Hours Law. It is generally conceded that the 1939 session is the most newsworthy in decades, perhaps all time, and that the fight over the budget to date outranks even the 1923 struggle between Gov. Friend Richardson and his economy blue pencil and a legislature seeking to restore drastic cuts, without success.

WHITTELL PILOT IS INJURED AS PLANE CRASHES IN LAKE

TAHOE CITY, May 11.—The huge amphibian hydroplane owned by Captain George Whittell, Sand Harbor flipped over in the lake on Monday morning, injuring the only occupant Pilot King, while landing.

The accident happened after a trial flight from Reno, when King evidently failed to pull up a retractable landing gear and one of the wheels caught on the lake causing the spill. The plane rested bottom side up on the private harbor of the Whittell estate where it was towed.

The plane was one of three owned by the capitalist and arrived only Friday from Mills Field, San Francisco. King was a new pilot for Whittell, the former pilot, Ray Lytle having died about a month ago from pneumonia. Whittell uses the planes in journeys from Tahoe to his Woodlake estate near San Francisco.

Whittell has a tunnel dug out of solid rock which leads to the lake shore from his Tahoe home to facilitate entrance in the winter when the snow is on the ground. The plane is equipped as an amphibian and also with wheels for ground landing in emergencies.

Repairs await the arrival of engineers from San Francisco.

H. C. Woolley of Reno landed a ten pound trout from the lake on Sunday off Pomin's.

Pomin's Resort will open around June 10 or possibly earlier, according to Ernest H. Pomin the manager.

Fish Survey Is Made On Truckee River To See Results Of Planting

TAHOE CITY, May 11.—The check-up instituted by the state fish and game commission on the opening of the fish season in the Truckee river revealed the following figures. Out of 51 fishermen:

Fish caught above 10 inches, 61. Below 10 inches, 332.

This of course, is only an approximate number as all fishermen on the river that day could not be contacted. The checkup was merely for the purpose of establishing the results from fish planting.

Tighter Restrictions Will Be Enforced In Tahoe Forest During Season

TAHOE CITY, May 11.—Tightening restrictions in the national forests to prevent increased fire hazards is planned for this season by officials of the forests in the Sierra where the sub normal precipitation has caused deep concern.

In the El Dorado National Forest Ranger Raleigh Bryan of Myers Station states that the El Dorado Camp between Al Tahoe and Bijon on Lake Tahoe is now being prepared for occupancy by 50 CCC boys who will arrive on May 15. A fire new fire truck has been added to the fire fighting equipment at the south end of the lake. Ranger Bryan arrived at the lake on May 2, almost a month earlier than last year, and for many years. Last year at this time the snow was banked higher than the car tops on the highway. This year it is entirely dry already.

Children Visit Tallac State Fish Hatchery To Learn Modern Methods

TAHOE CITY, May 11.—The children of the Tahoe branch of the Placer Union High school last Friday made a trip to the Tallac state fish hatchery where they viewed the process of taking the fish spawn from the fish racks of the Upper Truckee. Lloyd Shelby, fish hatchery assistant at Tallac was in charge assisted by Warden Harley Groves of Tallac.

Twenty five female trout were taken from the traps and between 3000 and 5000 eggs were stripped from each while the children were there. The milt was secured from the male trout and mixed in large cans of water and then taken to the hatchery.

From this artificial process, it was announced, about 95 per cent of the eggs hatch, while in nature it is estimated only two per cent are hatched.

The trip was in connection with their science and biology classes and was under the direction of Mrs. Bliss Hinkle.

MUCH BUILDING IS BEING DONE AS LAKE GETS READY

TAHOE CITY (Placer Co.), May 11.—George Kehlet of Meeks Bay Camp is having several additions and improvements made to this busy resort in anticipation of an early season. The grocery store is being enlarged and the resort will probably open for the season in the middle of May, according to Kehlet who returned on Monday last from Alhambra with Mrs. Kehlet.

The old, historic Meyers Station Hotel which burned to the ground last Thanksgiving Day, will be replaced this year by a fine, new, modern building, housing a coffee shop and a general store, according to Mrs. Charles Celio, mother of Norman Celio, the proprietor. The old structure was a stage depot on the Placerville-Tahoe road in the days of Hank Monk and the Comstock. It was located near the south end of Lake Tahoe on the Echo Summit highway.

A new rustic type building is under construction on the main street of Tahoe City for Joe King of Kings Beach and Truckee. The building, which will be ready for occupancy by June 1, will house a drug store with a prescription department. E. L. Loynd, Truckee druggist, has leased half of the building for twenty years. The other side will house a coffee shop. The approximate construction cost of the building is around $10,000.

A new addition is being made to the Tahoe Grocery Store, managed by Al Hull, to provide for expansion of the meat department.

WITH YOUR ASSEMBLYMAN, THURMAN

(by Assemblyman Allen G. Thurman)

Your assemblyman recently received an open letter under the heading of one of the Central Committees in the Sixth Assembly District, criticizing our action in voting with the economy bloc in the lower house. This letter, I have every reason to believe originated in Sacramento where it was mimeographed and sent on to the chairman and the secretary of the committee referred to for them to sign and mail out. In fact the letter was mailed to us without the approval of the majority of the committee members and we knew nothing of it until it appeared in print. Among other things is accused the writer of playing partisan politics. So that the people of the other nine counties of the district may know just where we stand as regards the budget and other matters we are going to quote a few paragraphs from our letter of reply to one sent us by two members of the committee. We have never evaded an issue and desire the people we are representing to know why we are for economy and sane legislation. We quote from our letter as follows:

"First, so that we may better understand each other, I desire to state that I sought the office on a non-partisan basis; that too was the basis on which I was elected and that is the basis on which I am endeavoring to serve the people of my district. And after serving but a few months in the state legislature I am more convinced than ever that the members of the legislature should be elected on a non-partisan basis and thereby not be subject to dictation or 'high pressure' by any political party. You have a perfect right to disagree with me, but never the less, that is my opinion. "Second, there has been a lot of political propaganda put out about a mandate of the people. Some of your legislators too were elected by a mandate of the people of their district. And I feel that I was one of those legislators. If you will recall, and I think that you will, on every election card which I handed out to the voters of the ten counties I have the honor to represent, was printed this slogan: 'I am for sane legislation and economy in government.' I did not fool anybody at any time and when I said I was for economy, I meant it and still mean it. In this am I not consistent? And I further believe that when the people voted in a new administration they did so on the certain claims of economy. Perhaps my ideas of economy are not the same as those entertained by you gentlemen. So for your information here are a few of my ideas as to economy. I do not believe that at this particular time we should add to the tax burden to balance the budget. The federal government has been going along for several years with an unbalanced budget and I have not heard much talk about it being balanced. I do not believe in increasing taxes to balance our state budget if we can carry on with some economy in spending and not go deeper into the red. I am opposed to any kind of a severance tax and believe that you realize the danger that might occur were we to start a severance tax program which once started might not stop until it hit right home in our gold mining industry and our lumber industry. Surely as business leaders in the largest mining district in the state, you can see this danger.

JAPANESE THREATEN TROUBLE HERE

Shanghai—Japanese demands for a threat to occupy the settlement and the French concession where this statute of peace is located. The statue on Avenue Edward VII is at the dividing line of the two foreign areas.

"And in the spending program of the present administration, I may as well go on record right here, that I am opposed to the proposed compulsory health insurance program which it is estimated will add a payroll tax upon every industry and business and the employees totaling some $80,000,000 a year.

"In your open letter you state that representatives are elected on the promise they will represent all of the people of their districts, honestly, fairly and impartially and not descend to the practice of petty partisan politics of the rule or ruin kind. I quite agree with this statement and I challenge you or any one else to prove that I am not sincerely and honestly endeavoring to serve the people of the district on my promise to them and upon my platform of sane legislation and economy in government.

"I desire to point out this fact that I am trying to serve the people and not the politicians. I owe allegiance to no party, not even the party to which I belong. My vote on the budget was not a party vote but an economy vote and is so voting, I carry out my campaign promise to the people who elected me.

"As long as I am in the state legislature I shall endeavor to serve the taxpayers, the little home owner the businessmen, the farmers, and fruit ranchers and the man who labors whether he be a clerk in a store or a member of some profession or craft, because it is these people who have to foot the bill when taxes go up. Even a severance tax would be a hidden tax upon these people and it is my opinion that the tax ceiling has almost been reached. A budget of $537,000,000 gentlemen, is not going to decrease taxes.

"For those people who are unemployed through no fault of their own I desire to see that relief is so administered that they will receive adequate and ample relief.

"Believe me when I say that I am sincerely trying to serve the people of my district on a non-partisan basis. I am sure that the people of my district do not want a 'rubber stamp' serving them.

"Thanking you for this opportunity to state my position and with kindest personal regard, I am

NORDEN NOTES

By C. W. Kramer

Saturday and Sunday many employees of the Southern Pacific in this district plan to be on Treasure Island, the days being set aside for the entire Pacific system employees to participate. Eleven district of the big family reunion will enjoy the occasion. Many interesting items have been arranged by the committees to make these days linger long in the minds of those attending. Miss Catherine will represent the Sacramento divisions and will vie with other queens of the divisions to be Miss Southern Pacific to rule over events of the entire program.

The contracting firm of Martin Green and Backerich have completed several garage approaches as recommended by the state highway department.

Mrs. Howard Shepard who has been ill at her home near Tunnel Six is reported as doing nicely.

For some time Mrs. Charles Vanderford of Van's Lodge near Norden has been visiting in Sacramento.

Mrs. Nolan Marion recently returned from Sacramento and way points after examining the spring and summer attire for the fair sex and brought back her impressions of what the better dressed women should wear and she used good taste.

Mrs. A. D. Myrick of Norden was a recent visitor in Sacramento on a business jaunt.

Last Saturday night the team of Hart, Littlejohn and Kramer motored to Sacramento, Littlejohn remaining in Roseville.

Several fishermen in this vicinity have had the spring fever as only one trout has been observed as being caught to date.

The Armbruster home at Norden have as their guests this week Mr. and Mrs. Ernest M. Johnson and family of Sacramento who are former Norden residents.

After a few days in Sacramento Louis Featsent returned to Norden much improved in general health.

After a busy inspection of the M of W lodge last Saturday evening A. H. Awischus of Tunnel Six reported a good meeting in which many conditions were taken care of. The meeting was held in Sacramento.

The marriage state which has been active in this district for the past two years claimed Miss Lupe Valderrama of Sacramento and Jesus Valadez in Reno last Sunday. They will reside in Norden.

YORTY URGES VOTE FOR BOYS OF 18 IN CASE OF WAR

SACRAMENTO, May 11 —(UP)—Assemblyman Sam Yorty, D., Los Angeles, this week urged that voting privileges be extended to persons over 18, since "it seems to me they should have a voice in choosing the representatives that may send them to war."

Yorty has introduced a Constitutional amendment to franchise young men and women in the 18 to 21 age group.

"The world now is threatened with the scourge of war," Yorty declared. "Since those who govern are the ones entrusted with the power to send these young people into war, it seems to me they should have a voice in choosing their representatives."

"I believe that if we infuse into the electorate the enthusiasm and spirit of young America, we will have better elections, more sober and serious young people and a safer democracy."

FOREST GUARDS ON DUTY EARLY IN TAHOE FOREST AREA

Due to lack of normal precipitation during this spring and above normal warm temperatures causing early melting of the deficient snowfall, it has been necessary to place fire lookout detection and other protection men on duty a month earlier than usual this spring.

Henry Casci of Nevada City entered on duty this week at the Sardine Point Lookout, which overlooks the Truckee river and its tributary drainage as well as Sierra Valley drainage area.

James Gleaton and Sam Dickey protective assistants at Truckee and Sierraville respectively, entered on duty May 1. Charles Arment, patrolman between Brockway and Chambers Lodge of the Lake Tahoe area, is also on duty. Permits for burning debris may be obtained from any of these men in their respective areas and residents are urged to obtain their burning permits and dispose of debris necessary to burn this year as early as possible, since debris burning out side of enclosed incinerators can not be carried on during the entire summer this year.

Only fifteen hundredths of an inch of precipitation was received at Truckee during April, while the normal for April is one and twenty-eight hundredths inches. Precipitation at Truckee as of May 1 was three and sixty-two hundredths inches below normal for the season. To date fishermen have not caused beginning September 1, last fall.

TREASURE ISLAND TO FEATURE BIG RODEO FROM MAY 12 TO 21

More than a hundred head of Brumma bulls, the most dangerous and treacherous "critters" the southwest can produce, will be pitted against the strength, skill and courage of the championship bull riders of the world in thrilling competitions to be staged at the World's Fair Rodeo May 12-21 in the Coliseum on Treasure Island.

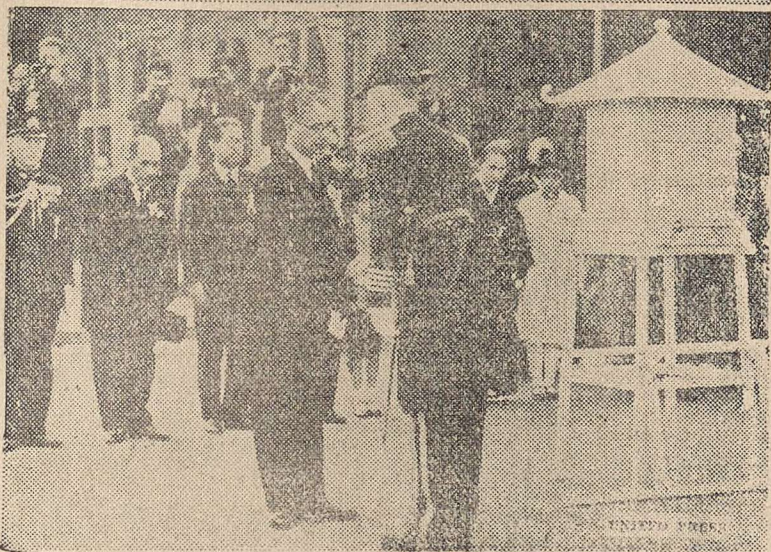

It is really going to be a tough show for the cowhands according to Harry Rowell, Jack Millerick, Cuff Burrell and Bob Barnby, who are pooling their resources to provide the toughest livestock in the West for the Treasure Island Round-Up. More championship bull riders both past and present will compete at the World's Fair Rodeo than have ever gathered at one time in one arena in the West, according to Ray Bell manager.

The greatest bull rider of all time Smokey Snyder, of Kimberley, British Columbia, will be one of the top hands who will tangle with the bulls. Snyder was World's Champion bull rider in 1931, 1932, 1935 and 1937.

Frank Schneider, World's Champion 1933 and 1934, is another one of the boys who will compete for a share of the large purses offered. Frank is a brother of Johnny Schneider of Livermore, former World's Champion all-around cowboy.
